Helping Working Families Achieve Financial Security

Lansing, MI – The Michigan Asset Building Policy Project (ABPP) is pleased to announce the release of its Second Edition of the report, Helping Working Families Achieve Financial Security, on June 24, 2010. The report reviews the organization’s past policy and advocacy achievements, outlines three core goals of the ABPP, and presents an action plan to move forward with asset building policy and programs in the state of Michigan.

“The report provides an in-depth explanation of past, current and future work that the ABPP and members of the Michigan Asset Building Coalition are engaging in across the state to boost the financial security of Michigan’s working families,” says Ross H. Yednock, director of the ABPP.

The report will be released online on the Michigan Asset Building Policy Project website on Thursday, June 24, 2010. To view the report on or after its release date, go to www.cedam.info/policy/abpp/index.php.
